Like a rippled reflection in a pool coming slowly into.Ed Bryant's story about stim star Jain Snow is a terrifically intense extrapolation of the communion between performer and audience. It received a Nebula nomination from the Science Fiction Writers of America for best short story of the year..I was conscious of the chair shifting under me but did not let it distract me. "Does that mean she's taking over?" .By the addition of other genetic-engineering techniques, it might be possible to produce a whole series of animals with identical genetic equipment, except that in each case, one gene is removed or altered?a different gene in each individual perhaps. The science of genetics would then advance in seven-league strides..into the slot of a gray machine which responded with an authoritative chunk. She slid the validated license.short. The ocean was on the other side of the mountains..Sirocco hesitated for a split second. "Okay" he finally said. "Let's do it." .When it's done, she holds me close and very tightly. Her rate of breathing slows and becomes regular. I wonder if she is asleep.."About a day," Crawford said. "You have to destroy them to get out of them. The plastic strips don't cut well, but there's another specialized animal that eats that type of plastic. It's recycled into the system. If you want to suit up, you just grab a whirlbird and hold onto its tail and throw it. It starts spinning as it flies, and wraps the end product around you. It takes some practice, but it works. The stuff sticks to itself, but not to us. So you spin several layers, letting each one dry, then hook up an airberry, and you're inflated and insulated,".For the next many days Barry didn't speak to a soul. He felt no need to communicate anything to.THE COMPANY REPRESENTATIVE: I cannot, of course, speak for the King. But I should imagine that he considered it so glaringly obvious that there was no need for the dissemination of such information..Well, Local 209 pulled out, just like the Company did. We knew there'd be no more jobs on the.Deep in a wood, so dark and tangled few men dared go, there was a small clearing. And in that clearing lived a girl and her brother hart.Thomas M. Dish. "You must return to your ship," they insist, "and obey the will of the Sreen." .You are watching an old movie, Bob and Ted and Carol and Alice. The humor seems infantile and.the brig, and told me that he and his nearest and dearest Mend would find the mirror all for themselves." .anything anyone said. The skit had been both essentially truthful and unjustifiably cruel. Too much."No. In fact, I think I've still got one left. Would you like it?" .First, there is the reactive pain. Only those who have reviewed, year in and year out, know how truly abominable most fiction Is. And we can't remove ourselves from the pain. Ordinary readers can skip, or read every third word, or quit in the middle. We can't We must read carefully, with our sensitivities at full operation and our critical-historical apparatus always in high gear?or we may miss that subtle satire which disguises itself as clich?, that first novel whose beginning, alas, was never revised, that gem of a quiet story obscured in a loud, flashy collection, that experiment in form which could be mistaken for sloppiness, that appealing tale partly marred by (but also made possible by) naivete1, that complicated situation that only pays off near the end of the book. Such works exist but in order not to miss them, one must continually extend one's sensitivity, knowledge, and critical care to works that only abuse such faculties. The mental sensation is that of eating garbage, I assure you, and if critics* accumulated suffering did not find an outlet in the vigor of our language, I don't know what we would do. And it's the critics who care the most who suffer the most; irritation is a sign of betrayed love. As Shaw puts it:.66."I mean I think these plants we've been seeing were designed to be the way they are. They're too.off. But we can't be sure we can even provide for ourselves, much less a child. I say we can't afford."No: why are you so accommodating to me, when Fra being such a bitch? Are you looking for an endorsement?" .No. But I've heard of it happening." .Oh, yes, it could be done. I can see three or four dodges right now.
